Family Day

Sunday, 28 August
11:00 am – 3:00 pm

As the Tempest exhibition continues at TMAG, this Family Day we explore a few Tempest themes: the sea, history and stories. Featuring special children's performances by Big Monkey Theatre, the day also involves hands-on art activities and opportunities for self-directed play and exploration.

Suitable for all ages.

All activities are free, drop-in sessions unless otherwise indicated.

Mobile Hands-on Culture

Discover fascinating objects from Tasmanian Aboriginal Culture as they move around the museum. This interactive program will showcase a variety of objects and will focus on the different cultural practices that have continued to thrive.

I of the storm

Jump into contemporary art in this fun and dynamic photo-based activity in response to Rosemary Laing's art series weather (2006).

Location:
Centre for Learning and Discovery

Patterned Penguins

Decorate a patterned penguin and be part of the Australian Antarctic Festival celebrations. The penguins will form a TMAG colony along the Hobart waterfront, so come along and make friends with a penguin!

Location:
Centre for Learning and Discovery

Tempest Quest

Brave adventurers can take this trail through the 'Isle of TMAG'. Will you find the clues Pirate Queen Blackbeak hid in the Tempest galleries to claim your reward? Designed for ages 5-10 with their carer.

Pick up your copy, and a pencil to borrow, from the reverse side of the Prospero's Library sign in the Central Gallery

Origami Boats

Practise your origami skills and come and 'fold a boat' to take home.

Location:
Link Foyer

The Nautical Adventures of the Owl and the Pussycat a play by Les Winspear

Sail with Puss and Owl to the land where the Bong-Trees grow and laugh with them as they make new friends, solve serious problems and discover there's more to the big wide world than they ever dreamed.

Based on Edward Lear's famous poem, this light-hearted, whimsical play is a journey in song and fun for the young-at-heart by Big Monkey Theatre.

Performance times: 11:30 am, 1:00 pm, 2:15 pm

Duration: 35 minutes

Location: Prospero's Library (Central Gallery)
