

The Friends of the Tasmanian Museum & Art Gallery invite you to wallow in nostalgia at the

'Isle of Many Waters' exhibition

Inspired by Frank Hurley's famous 1939 promotional film of the same name, the exhibition celebrates locals and visitors having fun on beaches, rivers and lakes throughout the island from the 1910s to the 1960s.

Home movies, tourism films and photos will bring back memories of what it was like to revel in the outdoor pleasures of Tasmania in those days. And maybe you or someone you know features in the films of the Hobart Regatta from 1913 to 1962...

Senior Art Curator Bryony Nainby will keep our heads above water as we float through this unusual and fascinating exhibition.
