What's in and what's not in the exciting range of exhibitions that will appear in the new museum

What an exciting year this is for the Tasmanian Museum and Art Gallery. The redevelopment is proceeding on time, with the opening scheduled for early 2013.

Come along for a first look at what's going into the new museum spaces. Content Manager Bill Seager and a panel of curators will provide an up-to-the-minute apprise on the amazing exhibitions planned for our new museum.
